

WOOL MEN GATHER TO TALK STORAGE

From Over Entire State Prom-

CONDITION OF BIG PLANT

Boston Commercial Comments on American Wool in Manner Said
To be Keynote of Situation.

sheep men of the state, in goodly numbers, are in conference this afternoon at the Commercial club building. The meeting is in response to a call sent out by Secy. C. B. Stewart, at least 700 invitations having been issued. The question of what shall be done with this year's crop of Utah wool is the principal subject under consideration.

Messrs. Austin and Kearns, recently come from the wool centers of the east, are of the opinion that the state's clip should be shipped and stored in Boston warehouses. In this way the wool will bring, they think, from 2 to 8 cents a pound more than commission houses are now offering. Bankers will advance from 50 to 60 per cent of the market value of stored wool, at low rates of interest, they say.

SAY THEY WILL LOOSE.

It is stated that commission men are against the proposition of storing western wool in the east, arguing that such procedure will result in loss. Wool growers claim that this stand on the part of buyers results from the fact that the latter have millions of pounds of wool left over from last year's purchase, which cost them from 20 to 28 cents a pound, not nearly so much can be obtained for it now, and the design of such holders seems to be to purchase this season's clip at from 10 to 12 cents, put it with last year's surplus and realize from the whole at least 18 cents.

President E. H. Callister of the Wool Growers' association is presiding over the meeting this afternoon, and other prominent growers in attendance are J. D. Wood, B. F. Saunders, F. J. Haggarth, Austin Brothers, John Seely, Enos Bennion, J. S. Peery and others. AN EASTERN VIEW.

Speaking of the wool situation, the Boston Commercial of May 2 says: "Business of American woolens continues very light, and the plants are being operated to less than half the normal capacity. The woolen business always suffers severely in any period of depression. When people are out of work they buy little new clothing. The present depression is likely to affect the business of the wool world. The Wool Worsted Mills issued $3,500,000 notes for construction, which matured $500,000 in March, 1907, $2,000,000 in September, 1910, and $1,000,000 in March, 1911. It was hoped to pay them from the earnings, and this is not impossible now, as considerable time will elapse before the maturity of the notes.

"Just at present, however, there probably are no surplus earnings to be applied to note redemption. With resumption of activity the earnings should accumulate rapidly. This is taken as a keynote of the general situation.

MINERS SELECT OFFICERS.

Annual Convention of State Union No. 1, W. F. M. Ends Session.

At the closing session of the convention of Utah State Union No. 1, W. F. M. officers to serve for the ensuing year were chosen as follows: S. J. Russell, Eureka, president; W. H. Wright, Bingham, vice president; and Joseph P. Langford, Park City, secretary-treasurer. Members of the executive board: District No. 1, Bartley McDonald; district No. 2, C. E. Anderson; district No. 3, George J. Edwards; district No. 4, E. G. Locke; and district No. 5, Edward Lemare.

From reports made to the convention by representatives from various parts of the state, it is apparent that the organization is in a prosperous condition, despite the fact that the mining industry is at a rather low ebb. The convention closed last yesterday afternoon, and the next meeting will be held Oct. 6, in this city.

Big Kelly and Dress Suits

"Take it from me," says Big Kelly, "dress clothes has done more to straighten out th' East Side than th' police. An' as for not bein' democratic, they make it so you can't tell th' guests from the waiters, an' if that ain't democracy, what is?"

"All my life I've been goin' to dinners. I suppose, one time and another, I've eat a thousand. I've eat 'em for the glory of St. Patrick; I've eat 'em Washington's Birthday. I've eat five hundred dinners to free Ireland alone."

Buy this week's issue of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, and read all that Big Kelly says about dress suits, dinners, trusts, and things in general.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is Peculiar to Itself

IN MERIT AND IN CURES, WHY?

The ingredients actually used in successful medicines are, in general well-known. But the exact proportions and methods of combining them, are important secrets which have been discovered only by the wisdom of experienced physicians and the fine discriminating skill of educated pharmacists.

Physicians Generally know, for instance, what the ingredients are which give Hood's Sarsaparilla the peculiar merit by which it effects so many remarkable cures, and they prescribe similar remedies in their practice, but they do not know the exact combination nor the proportions which make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar to itself.

In Scrofulous Cases and for other diseases of the blood, the expert physician's prescription is likely to call for one or more of the very articles that are used to give Hood's Sarsaparilla its wonderful power as a remedy for troubles of this kind.

To Restore Lost Appetite and as a strength-builder, he will prescribe some of the tonic remedies combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

But, the Proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla claim, and they think very properly, that this medicine, originating in the prescription of an eminent physician, and being tested and perfected during its long use by physicians and druggists, embodies a peculiar combination of vegetable remedies, which, together with the peculiar process by which it is prepared, gives it far greater merit than can possibly be found in the occasional prescription.

That It Does Possess this peculiar merit is shown by the extraordinary cures it has effected,—40,366 testimonials received in two years, by actual count—while no other prescription or formula has ever achieved anything like similar success.

Under the Pure Food and Drugs Law, no change was necessary in Hood's Sarsaparilla to conform to the law or to public sentiment. It is perfectly safe, pure, genuine and reliable.

Another point which appeals to many in these troublous times, when every penny of expense must carefully be watched, is the fact that dose for dose it is the most economical medicine—the only one of which can truly be said "100 Doses One Dollar."

In the usual liquid form or in the new form of chocolate-coated tablets called Sarsatabs. Sold by druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by

CLAUDE T. BARNES.

Young Attorney Who Has Been Elected a Member of the Society for Psychological Research, London, Eng.

Word has just been received from London notifying Claude T. Barnes of his election to membership in the Society for Psychological Research. The recognition comes as a result of the personal recommendations and influence of Prof. H. P. Bowditch of Harvard and Prof. G. Stanley Hall of Clark university, with whom Mr. Barnes formed an acquaintance in London.

The society council that passes on all memberships, at present, consists of Prof. W. F. Barrett, F. R. S.; Ernest N. Bennett, M. P.; the Earl of Crawford and Balcarres, K. T., F. R. S.; the Hon.

Everard Fiddling; Sir Lawrence J. Jones, Bart.; Sir Oliver Lodge; Gilbert Murray, L. D.; St. George Lane Fox Pitt; Lord Rayleigh; Lieut. Col. G. L. Le M. Taylor and Prof. J. J. Thomson, F. R. S.

The object of the society is the scientific investigation of the supernatural and the superhuman.

Mr. Barnes, a young attorney of this city who is the son of John R. Barnes of Kayville, received his education at the University of Utah, the University of Chicago and the University of Michigan.

CHILD DROWNS IN CANAL

Infant of F. F. Hintze Blown Into Stream by High Wind Meets Death.

Drowning in the canal ended the life of the 14 months' old child of F. F. Hintze Thursday afternoon at Big Cottonwood. The child was at play during the high wind prevailing and this is blamed by the parents for the distressing accident. The little child was playing about the doorway as usual. The heavy wind had blown open the gate opening on to the canal and the child strayed into paths that had always been forbidden. It wandered on to a bridge and it is thought by the grief-stricken parents that the wind blew with such force as to carry the infant into the water. Instantly an alarm was spread and a search for the child begun. Samuel Oliver, a neighbor living half a mile downstream from the Hintze home, caught sight of the child floating in the canal near his ice house. He took the little body from the stream and at that time death was apparent. It appears that the child lived only a few minutes after falling into the stream.

The funeral was held at 10 o'clock this morning at Big Cottonwood.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

"In February our daughter had the whooping cough. Mr. Lane, of Bartland, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said it gave his customers the best of satisfaction. We found it as he said, and can recommend it to anyone having children troubled with whooping cough." Says Mrs. A. Goss, of Durand, Mo. For sale by all druggists.

BACK FROM MILLARD COUNTY.

Presidents Joseph F. Smith and Francis M. Lyman Inspect Enterprises.

Presidents Joseph F. Smith and Francis M. Lyman returned yesterday from Millard county, whether they went to attend the funeral of Mrs. Caroline Ely Partridge Lyman, which occurred at Oak City Thursday afternoon.

The Millville and Deseret canals and spillways, immense projects designed to irrigate thousands of acres of hitherto arid lands, were visited and inspected by Presidents Smith and Lyman. Both were highly interested in the enterprises which mean so much for the development of that section of country. Millard county was formerly the home of Elder Lyman for many years and he is perfectly familiar with every portion of it, but President Smith had never before visited the region of Oak City. The trip to and from Burner was made on the San Pedro, and from that point and return a conveyance was brought into requisition.

ESTIMATES ARE APPROVED.

The board of public works held a special meeting yesterday afternoon at which estimates in favor of contractors to the amount of $59,500 were approved and ordered transmitted to the council for final action. P. J. Moran came in for the lion's share, his claims amounting to $45,200 for paving and paving repairs. James Kennedy and Strange & McClure had estimates amounting to $5,632 and $5,550.34 respectively, for sewer work approved, and Frank Doran was awarded $2,967 for sidewalks constructed.

TAKES CASE HIGHER.

R. B. Shepard, the Salt Lake book-seller, convicted of sending objectionable matter through the mails, and sentenced to 12 months in the state prison, has decided to appeal to the United States supreme court in the hope of escaping imprisonment.

NORWEGIAN CELEBRATION.

"The Norwegians of Salt Lake will celebrate the 15th of May (the 17th being their day of Independence) at Wandamere, where athletic sports will be engaged in in the afternoon and a program appropriate of the day carried out in the dance pavilion at 7 p. m. All Scandinavians, as well as the general public are invited to join in the celebration.

PIANO RECITAL.

Fred C. Graham has finally secured a night at the Salt Lake theater, when Miss Sybella White Clayton may be heard in a piano recital. Miss Clayton returned from Berlin last December, where she has been studying with Senior Albertina Jonas, and appearing under him in concerts and recitals. Most flattering notices were given Miss Clayton by the Berlin critics upon her appearance in the grand old March recital of Senior Jonas, who has always regarded her as one of his most promising pupils. Those who heard Miss Clayton in the recital which she gave before leaving Salt Lake City, will remember her rare talent of interpretation, as well as her graceful appearance at the piano.

DEATH OF MARY HARRIES.

Another of Utah's early settlers, Mrs. Mary Rees Harries, is dead. She died yesterday afternoon, at the family residence, Twenty-first East, between Tenth and Eleventh South streets, from dropsy, from which she had suffered for a long time. Her husband died several years ago, and she is survived by three sons and four daughters, namely Ben R. Harries, H. H. Harries, J. H. Harries, Mrs. Carrie Lloyd, Mrs. Alice Stowers, Mrs. Mayne Laird and Mrs. Lizzie Little.

Mrs. Harries was a native of South Wales, and was born Feb. 13, 1840. With her husband she came to Utah in 1859, and they settled on the bench at the place where both subsequently died. The funeral will be held from the Sugar meetinghouse Sunday, commencing at 1 o'clock p. m.

INSPECT BELL PLANT.

Open House to Celebrate Completion of Enlarged Exchange.

The Bell Telephone company is holding open house today, from 1 to 11 p. m., in celebration of the completion of the remodeled and greatly enlarged building and operating plant in State street. Every office and department is thrown open for public inspection, with well posted sub-officials and employees to explain the details of mechanical operation. There is a commodious elevator in the building which will carry visitors to the fifth floor, where the great switch-board is installed and a large force of girls are at work day and night. Then on the fourth floor may be seen the "terminal room," with its great frames, batteries, protective devices, testing apparatus, hundreds of miles of wire, operators' dining room, parlor and locker rooms, and on the lower floors are the various clerical and administrative offices. There is orchestral music and light refreshments for the further entertainment of visitors. The public is generally availing itself of the opportunity to inspect the practical workings of the Bell company's plant, so that clerks and officials are being kept busy in showing people around.

SCHOOL WORK SHOWN.

Patrons of the Webster school were permitted last evening to witness a creditable exhibition of the work of the pupils of that institution. Every branch in the eight grades was represented, and every student had a display, either in writing, spelling, composition, drawing, arithmetic, history, manual work, or something of the sort. The exhibition was in the main hall of the building, while on the second floor a musical program was carried out and light refreshments were served. The persons contributing to the musical entertainment were Joseph Khounourian, said to be a direct descendant of the last king of Armenia, Mrs. Joseph Khounourian and others. The showing made by the school was of a very high order, and parents of the children could not but appreciate the splendid work being done in the Webster.

DAVIS SEEKS ADVICE.

Acting Mayor A. J. Davis has not yet acted upon the resolution adopted by the city council to proceed with the laying of the water mains on First South street under an "emergency" plea without advertising for bids for the work, as required by law. He wishes first to confer with the city attorney in regard to the matter before he approves the council's action. Assistant City Attorney P. J. Daly advised the council that such action would not be legal, but the motion went through notwithstanding, and the matter came up to Mr. Davis for his consideration in his capacity of acting mayor.
